2. FISCAL FINANCIAL PERIOD

The financial statements of the company have been presented for the period from inception till 31 December 2009 which is considered as the first fiscal financial period for the company in accordance to the Article of Association of the Company.

3. SUMMARY OF SIGNIFICANT ACCOUNTING POLICIES

a. Preparation Framework

The financial statements have been prepared in accordance with International Financial Reporting Standards.

b. Basis of preparation

The financial statements are prepared under the historical cost convention, except the measuring of fair value for certain financial instruments. The significant accounting policies are set out below.

c. Financial assets

Financial assets are recognized and derecognized on the trade date when the Company becomes party to the contractual provisions of the instruments. The financial assets are initially recognized at fair value plus transaction costs, directly attributable to the acquisition or issue of those assets.

Financial assets are classified into the following categories:

i) Cash and cash equivalents

Cash and cash equivalents include cash on hand, current accounts and investment deposits with banks maturing within three months from the date of financial statements which are not under lien.

ii) Interest free loans and receivables

It includes takaful and other receivables that have fixed or determinable payments, which are not quoted in an active market.

iii) Available-for-sale (AFS)

AFS financial assets may include equity instruments that are not held principally for the purpose of selling in the near future or debt instruments with fixed or determinable payments and fixed maturity dates that the Company has no positive intent and ability to hold to maturity.

AFS financial assets are stated at fair value. Gains and losses arising from changes in fair value are recognized in other comprehensive income and accumulated in the investments revaluation reserve with the exception of impairment losses.

The cumulative gain or loss previously recognized in the investments revaluation reserve is included in the statement of comprehensive income upon the disposal of investment. Dividends on AFS equity instruments are recognized in profit or loss when the Company's right to receive payments is established.

iv) Investments at Fair Value through Profit or Loss (FVTPL)

These are investments typically bought with the intention to sell in the short-term. These investments are initially recorded at cost, Subsequent to initial recognition these investments are restated at fair value. Fair value adjustments and realised gains or losses are recognised in the statement of comprehensive income.

d. Impairment of financial assets

Financial assets are assessed for indicators of impairment at the end of each period. For financial assets carried at amortized cost, the amount of the impairment is the difference between the asset's carrying amount and the present value of estimated future cash flows, calculated using the original effective rate. The carrying amount of the financial asset is reduced by the impairment loss directly for all financial assets.

With the exception of AFS equity instruments, if, in a subsequent period, the amount of the impairment loss decreases due to an event occurring after the impairment was recognized, the previously recognized impairment loss is reversed through profit or loss to the extent that the carrying amount of the investment at the date the impairment is reversed does not exceed what the amortized cost would have been had the impairment not been recognized.

In respect of AFS equity securities, any increase in fair value subsequent to an impairment loss is recognized in other comprehensive income.

e. Property and equipment

Property and equipment are initially recognised at their cost being their purchase price plus any other costs directly attributable to bringing the assets to the location and condition necessary for them to be capable of operating in the manner intended by management.

After initial recognition, the property and equipment are carried, in the statement of financial position, at their cost less any accumulated depreciation and any accumulated impairment. Depreciation is calculated on a straight line basis, which reflects the pattern in which the asset's future economic benefits are expected to be consumed by the Company over the estimated useful life of the assets as follows:

Category	Useful Life
Furniture, fixtures and office equipment	5 years
Computers and software	3 years

The depreciation charge for each period is recognized in the statement of comprehensive income. The estimated useful lives, residual values and depreciation method are reviewed at each year-end, with the effect of any changes in estimate accounted for on a prospective basis.

The carrying values of property and equipment are reviewed for impairment when events or changes in the circumstances indicate the carrying value may not be recoverable. If any such indication of impairment exists, impairments losses are calculated in accordance with note 3 (f).

On the subsequent derecognition (sale or retirement) of the property and equipment, the resultant gain or loss, being the difference between the net disposal proceeds, if any, and the carrying amount, is included in the statement of comprehensive income.

f. Impairment of tangible assets

At each statement of financial position date, the Company reviews the carrying amounts of its tangible assets to determine whether there is any indication that those assets have been impaired. If any such indication exists, the recoverable amount of the asset is estimated in order to determine the extent of the impairment loss, if any, being the amount by which the carrying amount of the asset exceeds its recoverable amount. The recoverable amount is the higher of asset's fair value less costs to sell and the value in use. The asset's fair value is the amount for which that asset could be exchanged between knowledgeable, willing parties in arm's length transaction. The value in use is the present value of the future cash flows expected to be derived from the asset. An impairment loss is recognized immediately in the of comprehensive income statement, unless the relevant asset is carried at a revalued amount, in which case the impairment loss is treated as a revaluation decrease.

Where an impairment loss subsequently reverses, the carrying amount of the asset is increased to the revised estimate of its recoverable amount, but the increased carrying amount due to reversal should not be more than what the depreciated historical cost would have been if the impairment had not been recognized in prior periods. A reversal of an impairment loss is recognized immediately in the statement of comprehensive income unless the relevant asset is carried at a revalued amount, in which case the reversal of the impairment loss is treated as a revaluation increase.

g. Related parties

Related parties are considered to be related because they have the ability to exercise control over the Company or to exercise significant influence or joint control over the Company's financial and operating decisions. Further, parties are considered related to the Company when the Company has the ability to exercise control, significant influence, or joint control over the financial and operating decisions of those parties.

Equity instruments are contracts that evidence residual interest in the assets of an entity after deducting all of its liabilities. Equity instruments are recorded at the proceeds received, net of direct issue costs.

Retakaful and other payables represent amounts due by the Company to other parties arising from reinsurance / retakaful contracts or other contracts of administrative nature.

The Company derecognizes financial liabilities when, and only when, the Company's obligations are discharged, cancelled or expired.

i. Provisions

Provisions are present obligations (legal or constructive) resulted from past events, the settlement of the obligations is probable and the amount of those obligations can be estimated reliably. The amount recognized as a provision is the best estimate of the expenditure required to settle the present obligation at the statement of financial position date, that is, the amount that the Company would rationally pay to settle the obligation at the statement of financial position date or to transfer it to a third party.

Provisions reviewed and adjusted at each statement of financial position date. If outflows, to settle the provisions, are no longer probable, reverse of the provision is recorded as income. Provisions are only used for the purpose for which they were originally recognized.

p. Revenue recognition

Retakaful income and expenses

Dividend income

Dividend income from investments is recognized when the shareholders' rights to receive payment have been established.

Income from investment deposits

Income from investment deposits is accounted on a time apportioned basis.

q. Basic earnings per share

Basic earnings per share is calculated by dividing profit or loss, attributable to ordinary share holders, by the weighted average number of ordinary shares outstanding during the period/year.

r. Contingent liabilities

Contingent liabilities are possible obligations depending on whether some uncertain future events occur, or they are present obligations but payments are not probable or the amounts cannot be measured reliably. Contingent liabilities are not recognized in the financial statements.

s. Segment reporting
